(July 22, 2023) Historic flooding hits Nova Scotia amid torrential downpours | CBC News – Areas in Nova Scotia received 250 mm (10 inches) of rain in a 24 hour period, causing dramatic flash floods. It was the heaviest rainfall in the Halifax area since Hurricane Beth in 1971. As a result, rivers and streams overflowed. 4 people, including 2 children, were killed after the vehicles they were riding in became submerged in floodwaters. Numerous road washouts were also reported.

Incidents:

July 22, 2023) Nova Scotia Hit with Intense Flooding, Evacuations Ordered as Dam Threatened to Breach | Atlas News \(theatlansnews.co\) – An evacuation order was issued for people living along the St. Croix River system near Windsor, NS. An emergency alert was sent to cellphones at 3:41 a.m. on Saturday morning. Local flooding had resulted in the washout of a section of penstock, the intake structure for which was located within an embankment dam upstream. The evacuation was recommended by the dam owner in an abundance of caution as they were unable to immediately verify whether the embankment had been damaged.

IMPLEMENTATION OF NICOLD-CDA TECHNICAL AGREEMENT: LETTER OF APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to the Canadian Dam Association (CDA) for the successful takeoff of implementation of the Agreement for the Technical cooperation and Exchange between the Nigerian Committee on Large Dams and the Canadian Dam Association (CDA)

2. The webinar on Dam Safety 101 was held on 28th September 2023 followed by the workshop on Dam Safety at the Mainstream Academy in Kainji from 13th to 16th November 2023.

3. We especially appreciate Margaret Trias, Richard Donnelly, and Dami Adedapo who traveled from Canada to Kainji. We also appreciate Tony Benneth, Claire Raska, and Pierre Choquet who sacrificed their comfort to make remote presentations at the workshop.

5. We look forward to further collaboration with CDA as we progress in the implementation of the Agreement between our Associations.

6. Please accept the assurance of my warm regards

Dr. J.B.O Adewumi
President.
